

Commands:

There are not any command as such.

One has to just open the .html file click buttons and the one will see the graph below the button ust been clicked.

Graphs:

Graphs basically have two regression lines one from the monte carlo and other one from the formula.

Below is the image showing how the results will be shown.

